Ever Boogie Board in a Tsunami? and four other astonishing stories...

This summer, you may not be able take the whole family out for a show, but you can still enjoy Summer 2020, a live audiobook / storytelling concert by author and storyteller Mark Binder.

One tale is a hilarious argument over pizza. Another is about the power of owning your identity.

Culled from five different performances, Summer 2020 is fun listening at home, around the campfire, in the car, or as a welcome diversion in the midst of a summer thunderstorm.

“Young people need to feel part of a group,” says Mark Binder. For the past 20 summers, he has been telling tales in libraries, camps, summer schools, community centers, festivals and even parking lots. “Whether you’re five or a hundred-and-five, we all crave nutritious and delightful stories.”

“Mark Binder is a master at spinning old tales and everyday events... into storytelling gold.” – Parents’ Choice Gold Award

Mark Binder – Summer 2020 is available on Audible, Amazon, iBooks, GooglePlay Books and wherever audiobooks are sold.

An exclusive “Author’s Edition” that includes a bundled 99 page ebook is only available at markbinder.com/summer2020

Bio: Mark Binder is the Audie Award-Nominated author of more than two-dozen books and audiobooks. He tours the world as a performer, transmitting the joy of story across boundaries.
